Advice for parents with a refugee and migration background on questions about their children's education

Who are parent mentors?

- Volunteers who are committed to good co-operation between parents and educational institutions
- Neutral and confidential contact persons for parents with a refugee or migrant background, educators and teachers
- Know the school system in Baden- Württemberg
- Belong to different cultures themselves

Who can contact parent mentors?

- All parents with a refugee or migration background who would like to have support on questions about school and education
- Teachers and school administrators
- School social workers and socio-educational specialists
- Counselors in institutions and organizations that work with families with a refugee or migrant background outside of school

What do the parent mentors do?

- Advise parents on school and daycare issues
- Act as mediators between parents seeking help and educational institutions
- Provide information about the German school and education system and its types of schools
- Accompany discussions between parents, educators and teachers
- Establish contact with families from different cultures
- Refer to counseling centers if needed
- Handle all topics confidentially
